

International Animation Day

On October 28th 1892, Charles Emile Reynaud, a science teacher from France and an inventor, projected the first animated cartoon film in public at the Grevin Museum in Paris. It was called "Theatre Optique".

In the year 2002, ASIFA (The International Animated Film Association) proclaimed that October 28th of every year will be celebrated as International Animation Day, commemorating this first public performance.

The Department of Animation, Jain University will celebrate International Animation Day on 28th October 2011 at JGI Knowledge campus, Jayanagar 9th block.
