

Statistical Forecasting

Analysis of time series data and learning forecasting techniques through average method, moving average method and exponential smoothening method. The techniques are used to forecast environmental parameters, flood forecasting, Accident analysis, etc. The hands on complete training are given to students.

Vastu Shastra

Introduction to importance of Vastu Shastra in today's modern environment. Learning module wise planning of residential houses using principles of Vastu Shastra. Students have learned the techniques and planned registered building for a given plot area.