

JAIN UNIVERSITY PRESS LAUNCHES ITS LATEST BOOK – PANGS OF LIFE

Jain University Press released its latest publication 'Pangs of Life', a collection of poems on the Life, Loss, Identity, Fear, War and Exile authored by his Excellency Williams Nkurunziza, the High Commissioner of Rwanda to India on 22 March 2013 at The Grand in New Delhi. The book was launched by Dr. M.M. Pallam Raju, the Honorable Minister of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India. Dr. Chenraj Roychand, President, Jain University Trust also graced the occasion.

The first book written by the author from Rwanda saw its flagship launch in India and was held in the presence of Diplomats, Members from MHRD and UGC, Senior Management and officials of Jain University, Authors, Publishers and Distributors.

'Pangs of Life' is presented in seven sections and reveals the journey of author's life and its fugacious blossoms in a deeply moving ensemble. In this collection, he has captured the heart wrenching catastrophe of the Rwandan Genocide, mindless violence and the inconsolable grief it left in its wake. There are also some flamboyant moments of joy, triumphs, everlasting hope, betrayals and longings in an eloquent repertoire in the poems.

Speaking at the launch, Dr. Chenraj Roychand said, "With the book, Pangs of Life, the Jain University Press has taken the initiative of introducing African authors in the Indian market. It is an honour to be a part of this book, authored by his Excellency Williams Nkurunziza, which has captured emotions and expressions in a profound way expressing the deepest desires and thoughts. We are confident that it will leave a long lasting impression on its readers."

The book will be available in all the leading bookstores in India at INR 2000. To order your copy online write to us at ju.publications@jainuniversity.ac.in. Special discounts available for bulk orders and early birds*.

*T & C apply