

August 2013 batch of Ph.D. and M.Phil students commence course work

The Ph.D and M.Phil students of the August 2013 batch began their course work with the inaugural lecture delivered on 29 August 2013. Dr. Chenraj Roychand, President, Jain University Trust, delivered the inaugural lecture.

In his inaugural lecture, Dr. Chenraj Roychand kept his audience spell bound with his inspiring oration on the need to understand and appreciate ones true potential. He complimented all the new researchers for having embarked on an exciting journey of discovery and advised them to effectively manage their time in order to ensure that their research journey at Jain University was to be truly enriching, enjoyable and fulfilling.

While welcoming the gathering, the Pro Vice Chancellor of Jain University, Dr. Sandeep Shastri, congratulated each of the Ph.D. and M.Phil students for taking the decision to pursue a formal research degree. He also thanked them for having reposed faith in Jain University. He assured them that the University would provide every possible support to ensure that their course work and research was of the highest standards.

Speaking on the occasion, the Vice Chancellor, Dr. N Sundararajan, highlighted the different phases in the research journey and took the audience through a fascinating analysis of the quintessence of research. Four of the new Doctoral students also spoke on the occasion. They highlighted on the fact that they were motivated to enrol for a formal research degree to expand their horizons of knowledge and consciously chose Jain University on account of the reputation it had built up and the benefits of rigorous course work as narrated by their seniors.

Dr. Mythili P Rao, Dean – Languages proposed the vote of thanks, marking a formal end to the inaugural lecture. A large gathering comprising the Principal Officers of the University, Deans of Faculty, Guides and more than 150 Ph.D. and M.Phil students witnessed the occasion.

The Ph.D. and M.Phil students are enrolled in all the six different faculties and many among them plan to pursue inter-disciplinary work. Some of them are fresh post graduates, many of them are faculty with over a decade of teaching experience, yet others are from the industry / corporate world and a few are entrepreneurs. This unique mix provides the base for an excitement exchange of ideas during the course work. Jain University wishes all the best for the new batch of researchers!
