

A brief report on “A Day out with Angels and Pulse Polio”

School of Commerce and Management Studies, Jain University in association with Rotaract Club organized “A Day out with Angels and Pulse Polio” on 17 and 18 January 2015.

On 17 January 2015 the students visited Sai Vrindavan run by Rotary Cubbon Park, to have a wonderful day with the old people and physically impaired children. The members were given a tour by the Rotarians of the centre which showed the real challenges of life faced by those old, small differently abled children and senior people.

The students then organized activities for the children and donated stationary kits & new clothes to them having a gala time. After the activity session, all the senior people were honoured individually for living the life dignity despite being ignored by their own children or their disability.

On 18 January 2015, the students participated in the Pulse Polio Day organized by Rotary Cubbon Park. 15 students attended the project and helped Rotary Cubbon Park in distribution of vaccines, food to the centres. The students also went on the streets near town hall to create awareness among public about polio.
