

CERSSE, Jain University is collaborating with Participatory Research in Asia (PRIA) for a project on 'Community Engagement in Higher Education Institutions'

The Centre for Research in Social Sciences and Education (CERSSE), Jain University is collaborating with Participatory Research in Asia (PRIA), an international centre for learning and promotion of participatory and democratic governance, for a project on 'Community Engagement in Higher Education Institutions'. The segment of the Project in which CERSSE is involved, includes the documentation of best practices in higher education institutions in and around Bengaluru, with regard to community engagement and preparing a report on the same. This will be followed by a regional conference on the theme in mid February 2015.

The major institutional project of ICSSR awarded to CERSSE on Defining Quality in Higher Education is due for completion in March 2015.
