

School of Graduate Studies JAIN UNIVERSITY

Declared as Deemed-to-be University u/s 3 of the UGC Act, 1956

organises

A special talk by Hindi novelist Mridula Garg on

‘मेरी कलम, मेरा जीवन’

Date

23 July 2014

Time

3 pm - 5 pm

Venue

School of Graduate Studies

34, 1st Cross, J C Road, Bangalore - 560 027

About Mridula Garg

Mridula Garg, recipient of the prestigious Sahitya Akademi Award is an acclaimed Hindi writer of contemporary times with an unconventional style of writing. She has to her credit 27 published works in Hindi - novels, short story collections, plays and collections of essay of which she has rendered three into in English. Her novels have won critical and popular acclaim for the audacity of their themes and the lyricism of their style. She has been a columnist, writing on environment, women issues, child servitude and literature. She is also awarded the Hammett- Hellman award for courageous writing by Human Rights Watch, New York.

The session is OPEN to all!

For more details, contact:

Dr. Mythili P Rao

M +91 98801 45514

www.jainuniversity.ac.in