SAMANVAYA

INVITATION

“SUCCESS IS NOT DEFINED BY THE PROSPERITY THAT SURROUNDS. IT IS THE PLEASURE OF ACHIEVEMENT THAT ARISES FROM A STRUGGLE.”

Samanvaya is Jain University's National Level, Inter-Collegiate Management Fest. Organized by the members of the Commerce & Management Forum, it provides a platform for participants to unveil and apply their talents to reach new heights. It brings to life the corporate world through its state of the art commerce competition, inspired by the motto of creating visionaries.

In this completely functional world, each individual believes in the concepts of free will, free choice and a private opinion. Generations have believed in the stern idea that we live a life where we are in control, but the reality couldn't be further away from this.

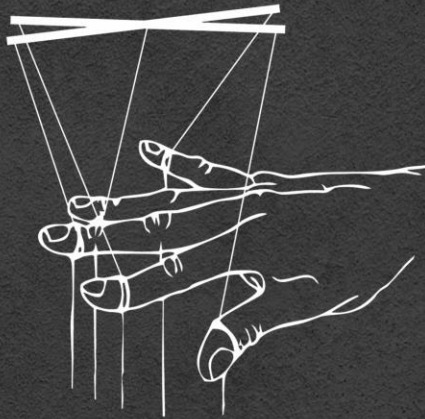

As an individual entity, we are nothing, but puppets under the misconception that we are in full control of our own destiny. On the other hand, the strings are controlled by a series of individuals who garner personal benefits from this said setting of control.

The question here is, can there be an existence of a rather more entwined and diverse game where control is shifted and exchanged?

We request your esteemed presence at Samanvaya 2015 organised by The Commerce and Management Forum and grace the occasion.

Venue : Jain University, SCMS
