Thousands of students met recruiters from the fields of Finance, HR, Marketing, Engineering, Animation, Information Technology, Sciences and Humanities at the 'Connect to Careers' job and education fair organised by Jain University in the city.

"Through this initiative, we aim to provide employment opportunities to job aspirants and providing good career counselling as well. This has also helped to create a space for the right candidate with the right attitude and aptitude to find the right job," said Dr Easwaran Iyer, Dean - Faculty of Commerce and Director - Placements, Jain University.

He reminded students that the focus should not be only on remuneration packages, but mainly on the challenges the job offers, which would contribute one to upgrade
