

Thursday, June 9th, 2011

Students are preparing to wear Kurtas & Salwar for the new Academic Year

Varsha, who wants to become a chartered accountant, has joined Jain Evening College so that she can focus on her career.

"As of now, I am busy preparing for the CPT exams which will be held on June 19.

Only after the exams get over, I can think about my degree classes. I heard that teaching is excellent in Jain College.

Hence, I am eager to attend the classes which are starting on June 20. According to the dress code, we have to wear only 'kurtas' and 'salwars'. So I am planning to buy more of those," she says.