

Monday, September 26, 2011

Aersospace institute inaugurated

The International Institute of Aerospace Engineering and Management (IIAEM) was inaugurated by former chairman of ISRO, K Kasturirangan, on Sunday. IIAEM aims to be a world-class institute and provide globally relevant education, training and research to support growth of technology and business in the field of aerospace engineering and management.

The institute is a joint venture between Jain University, HAL, NAL, DRDO, Airports Authority of India, Bangalore International Airport Ltd (BIAL), ISRO and some other private aerospace industries.