

Jain University signs MoU with iNurture

Bangalore based iNurture Education Solution Pvt. Ltd has done its 12th successful university partner tie-up by signing a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with Jain University, Bangalore. The tie-up is based on the UIP model introduced by iNurture in 2005, that facilitated Indian universities to offer career-ready higher education. Under the MoU, iNurture would play the role of a knowledge partner to deliver its futuristic full-time undergraduate (4) courses and postgraduate (7) courses from the academic year 2013-14 onwards. These courses are designed in partnership with the industry experts to fulfill the industry requirements with practical projects in organizations, market visits, etc for effective employability after the completion of the course. All the courses are to be certified by Jain University and will have 100% placement support.
