

MAIL TODAY

News for the new Indian

■ JAIN UNIV LAUNCHES NEW M.TECH COURSE

A two year M.Tech programme in Building Science and Technology has been launched by Jain University, Bangalore in collaboration with the Indian Green Building Council (IGBC). IGBC is a part of the CII-Sohrabji Godrej Green Business Centre and is involved in promoting Green Building concept in India. The pedagogy and the curriculum of the course have been designed, keeping in mind the professional demand for cutting edge technology solutions to address sustainability challenges. The programme module covers Environmental and Sustainable Engineering, Green Technology, Carbon footprint and Measurement for all building types, Modern Materials, Construction and Characterisation, Life Cycle Assessment and Materials Selection, Retrofitting of Buildings and Renewable Energy.