College lit fest gets students to do poetry slams

Young poets from varied backgrounds found expression through verse at a poetry slam organised by Jain University, JC Road campus. This was part of Avant Garde, an inter-college literary fest with 30 participants from across institutions like Mount Carmel College, Christ University, St Joseph's College, RNSFJC and Jain University. Apart from reading, some students chose to interpret poetry through sketches, dance, song, beat boxing and classical fusion.
