

IN THE MEDIA

Monday, October 5th, 2009

Varsity symposium to focus on environment conservation

The faculty of humanities and social sciences of Jain University will be organising a one-day Symposium on Environment Conservation and Sustainable Use on October 5. It is being held in association with the University of New South Wales, Australia and Eco-watch. Dr R Chenraj Jain, chancellor of Jain University, will open the symposium to be held at the university's Global Campus in Kanakapura taluk.