

Ourea 2012!

Jain University organized a three-day fest -'Ourea' to celebrate the north-east Indian culture from Feb 11 to Feb 13, 2012.

Following the arrival of the Chief Guest on Feb 11, Dr. H T Sangliana, the function started with a welcome address by the MC. An invocation prayer by Buddhist monks and lighting of the lamps added grace to the event. After a token of appreciation by Dr. Mythili Rao, Dean of Languages to the esteemed guests, the chief guest Dr. H T Sangliana was invited to share a few words of wisdom with those present. Knowing the fact that the north-eastern province has been neglected from time immemorial, Dr. H T Sangliana was very happy with the concept of this fest as it spread awareness about its unique culture. He was glad to witness people from various cultures embracing the north-eastern culture. He expressed his heartfelt wish that India should reach a situation soon where each and every state will get it due prominence.

Further on various cultural programmes were staged, which included an inaugural song by the Sikkim Group, Zelingpong Dance (dance of the Nagas), Assamese Dance, an instrumental Buddhist recitation, and concluding Dance.

The vote of thanks was given by the organizers of the event to Mr. Sangliana, the performers and everyone who had come together to make the very first 'Oureo' 2012 a huge success. The event also marked the launch of the north-eastern cultural club - "TSAMMNAM" which is coined by using the first letter of all the eight states of the North East India.
