One Of The Greatest Exhibits Of Students' Skills And Talents At Tarusamskruti And Pulse 2019

Bengaluru : The Stage Was Set To Host Two Of The Biggest And Most-Awaited National-Level Intercollegiate Events Tarusamskruti And Pulse 2019 Which Turned Out To Be Grand And Finer This Time Around. Samashti – The Student Council Left No Stones Unturned In Making These Events A Huge Success.

Their Efforts And Rigor Reflected In The Overwhelming Response And Output Which Turned Out To Be A Hallmark In Itself. Both The Events Turned Out To Be A Robust Platform Showcasing The Hidden Talents Across Various Domains Ranging From Academics And Culture, A Celebration Of Knowledge And Arts With Noteworthy Performances From The Students Of Jain (Deemed-To-Be University) And Some Of The Reputed Colleges From Across The Country like, Mount Carmel College, St Joseph's College Of Commerce, To Name A Few.

This Year, Tarusamskruti Was Divided Into Three Clusters Namely; Samavanya, The Commerce Fest Where The Theme Was 'Corporate Acclimation;' Samyoga, The Cultural Fest With The Theme, 'A Chimera Of Stardust,' And Sankalpa, The Technical Fest, A Hub For The Tech Enthusiasts Respectively.

Celebrities Like Uргenyo, Zoe Siddharth, Sunitamurali, Ashvithi Shetty, Tanvisingla, And Others Graced The Cluster Events As The Honorable Judges. Jain (Deemed-To-Be University)'S Center For Management Studies Won Samyoga And Samavanvya Overall Trophies And St Joseph's College Of Commerce Won Sankalpa 2019's Trophy Respectively.

For The Firsttime, The Tarusamskruti Overalls Award Was Introduced This Year Which Was Bagged By Jain (Deemed-To-Be University)'S Center For Management Studies For Having Performed Exceptionally Well In All The Cluster Events.
