Expert Panel

Capital Buffer, Reserve Transfer & RBI's Autonomy

On

Monday, 10 December, 2018

10.00 AM - 1.00 PM

Venue: Seminar Hall 1, School of Humanities & Social Sciences
JAIN (A Deemed to - be University)
Atria Towers, Palace Road, Bangalore – 560001

The Objective: To analyse all about capital buffer, reserve transfer and RBI autonomy. The November 19, 2018 RBI Board meet shows that RBI has climbed down on several agendas pushed by the government - loan restructuring scheme for small businesses, creation of capital buffer for weak banks, economic capital framework and reserve transfer of RBI. RBI's acceptance of the Board' advice reveals that central bank has become a board-driven entity instead of top class of the RBI deciding the issues. Have RBI's concessions come against the threat of the Centre invoking Section 7 - a rule which has never been used in the history - to issue directions to the central bank to act on its key concerns. Eminent resource persons from academia and RBI will present their views in the symposium.
